Medical Service Providers are encouraged to take note of the following guidance when treating patients in terms of the Compensation for Occupational Injuries and Diseases Act of 1993 (COID Act):

- a. Employees as defined in the COID Act of 1993, are generally free to choose their preferred Medical Service Provider, provided that such choice is exercised reasonably and without prejudice to the employee or the Compensation Fund.
 - An exception applies where an employer, with the approval of the Compensation Fund, provides comprehensive medical aid facilities to its employees, e.g. Hospital, nursing and other medical services, as contemplated in Section 78 of the COID Act, in such cases, treatment arrangements may differ.

- c. Medical Service Providers are reminded that in accordance with section 76(3)(b) of the COID Act, medical expenses may not be recovered from the employee. Providers should therefore avoid billing employees directly for services that fall within accepted COID claims.
- d. Where a change of Medical Service Providers occurs, the first treating doctor is generally regarded as the principal treating doctor, unless the case is transferred to a specialist.
- e. To promote continuity of care and avoid disputes, Medical Service Providers are encouraged not to treat an employee who is already under the care of another practitioner without first consulting or informing the principal treating doctor.
- f. Any changes of medical service providers should be supported by sufficient reasons, and such reasons should be communicated to the Compensation Fund to ensure clarity and proper case management.
- g. In line to section 5 of the National Health Act no 61 of 2003, a health care provider may not refuse a person emergency medical treatment. In emergency situations, Medical Service Providers are not required to obtain prior authorisation from the Compensation Fund before rendering such treatment even if the claim has not yet been registered or accepted.

Note	Claims for Ocular Prostheses are for the fitting of a prosthesis after removal of the eye due to injury or pathology, and replacement of the prosthesis at the end of its life, and for the maintenance of the prosthesis in the interim. Correctly manufactured and maintained prostheses should last 60 months. They should be annually 'serviced' to maintain the surface of the prosthesis and thereby prevent deterioration and / or physiological issues from reducing the lifespan of the prostheses and / or resulting in the need for additional medical or surgical intervention.
